

DATES

Three Events

The three main AAA events are:

- The international scientific symposium, which laid the scientific foundation for the initiative;
- The high meeting on the AAA initiative that will bring together, the 29th and 30th of september, all the stakeholders of the initiative;
- COP22, United Nations Conference on Climate Change.

High Meeting on the AAA Initiative September 29-30, 2016 Marrakesh (Morocco)

Next September 29th and 30th, a high-level international conference will be held in Marrakech, in the presence of government representatives (the African ministers of agriculture), international organizations NGOs and corporates, as well as donors, project proponents, scientists and experts. The objective of the conference is to present the technical solutions and best practices, to develop the AAA initiative with concrete proposals in terms of projects and funding, and especially to encourage all the stakeholders to make sure that the Adaptation of African Agriculture be placed at the heart of climate discussions.
